

I'M A COP

Written by

Robert Campbell

robert@robertcampbell.net
818-752-4391

EXT. ALLEY - DAY

STACY (late 20s), African-American. She's a rookie cop confronting her Training Officer.

STACEY

You really can't stand seeing me in this uniform, can you? I don't know if it's my color, or my sex, or something else, but you really hate the idea of me being a cop. I get it.

(beat)

I also don't care. See, you can push, yell, call me any kind of name you want, but this is what's real: I'm a cop today. I'm gonna keep on being a cop tomorrow.

(beat)

And nothing you do is gonna change that.